

Application #09/730165

ABSTRACT of this invention

The E-Commerce Role Playing Platform concept runs solely via the world wide web. A game server will be used to connect players.

WebMaster Tools, Inc. will be the sole owner and operator of the game accounts and will distribute earnings/fees accordingly.

Legally, the E-Commerce Role Playing Platform will require, upon initial entrance to the game, parental approval from players under the age of 18yrs. old and acceptance of the terms & licensing agreements of the E-Commerce Role Playing Platform and the company that licenses it. Anticipating the appeal this format will have to younger players, the licensing company will be required to conduct random checks via phone, e-mail, and mail to verify age and consent. This will be a requirement of licensing the E-Commerce Role Playing Platform from WebMaster Tools, Inc..

WebMaster Tools, Inc. will also require, via the "game account" that it provides the licensing company, a safety net for maximum amount of loss in a given time period, based on skill level, game level, & amount of funds in the "game account."